OCTOBER 2024 Newsletter

President's Corner

What is your quilting journey?

Last month we heard Kestrel Michaud describe her journey into what she calls imaginative realism quilting. Kestrel began working with fabric in high school, took a turn away from it in college, got back into fabric with a passion, became a full-time artist, and now wins awards. This month we will hear about Kay Butler's antique quilting journey. No doubt it will be quite different, but just as interesting. Two very different quilters with extremely different areas of focus, but in many ways, much the same. As quilters, we all work with fabric and thread. We all choose designs and colors. We all spend precious time creating works of art. And we all have a quilting story to tell.

I still think about that colorful skirt that ended up on the back of several of Alice Kish's quilts (how big was that skirt?) and all of the incredible handwork that went into Candy Stiffler's mom's quilts. I recall seeing Anna Maria Horner describe her quilting story and the influence that her heritage has had on what she creates. And I reflect on my own quilting journey and how much I have learned and changed about the way I create. Much of that change has been because I have been a member of Bayside. Being part of this guild has exposed me to the amazing quilters from all over the world that we invite to present at our meetings, but also to all of the amazing quilters that are part of Bayside. There is so much talent in our guild, and everyone has an interesting quilting story. As this new year of Bayside unfolds, try to take advantage of the many presentations, demonstrations and workshops that we will offer. There might just be something that will make your quilting journey just a little bit sweeter.

Happy fall!

Jackie

Table Talk

Nothing for sale this month. Just an over flowing Free Table. I have some good things that have been donated, but I am waiting to get more to sell.

One of the things on the free table will be a BIG bag of Crown Royal purple bags. Not sure who brought these to me but if you can think of something to do with them they are YOURS.

Fall is here, so look for something on the free table to make a warm fall quilt!

BE THERE OR BE SQUARE!!

Bayside's annual Handmade Market is right around the corner. Mark your calendar for two important dates:

October 16, Maker's Day

where we sew items for the Handmade Market

9 am – 3 pm at the Trappe Firehouse

and

November 15-16, Handmade Market

our sale to the public

Friday 3 pm to 7 pm and Saturday 9:30 am to 3 pm at the Trappe Firehouse

You are sure to have fun sewing with friends if you can join us on October 16. We will have plenty of kits, so just bring a machine and your love of sewing. All proceeds from the sale of items we create on Maker's Day will go to the guild to support our programs, community quilts, education and other activities.

If you are planning to put your own items in the sale, you will need to use the standard tag, which will be available at the Bayside meetings in October and November. You can also download them from our website at: <http://www.baysidequilters.com/handmade-market-2024.html> (contact Pat Massimini at pat@massimini.us if you need the password). You can find lots of other information about the Handmade Market at that website, so be sure to check it out.

PUBLICITY STILL NEEDS YOU

The Publicity team has collected quite a few sponsors at the $100 level. You can see their names on the flyers and rack cards. By the way, the design by Kin West is really great. Other sponsors have contributed at the $25 and $50 level. Their business card size tribute will be displayed on the Sponsor Board in the entrance of the Trappe Volunteer Fire Company. The money is used for print expenses and ads in Attraction magazine, Talbot Guide and Maryland Register. Crabby Quilter, Rags, Aggravation Acres, Predator Controller and Sonny Diefenderfer, Colin Perry are some of the friends that are already helping out. Anonymous donations of any amount are welcome too.

It's not too late to add a business to the Sponsor Board. Do you know a business that we have missed? Please contact Nita, Kin or Lou and we'll do the rest. If you prefer to contact the business directly, ask them to make the check payable to Bayside Quilters and give you a business card. We can add sponsors (donors) at any time, even during the Handmade Market.

ALL members are encouraged to distribute rack cards and flyers. They are being made available to you at Bees and regular meetings. This is all-hands-on-deck exercise. Please help the Handmade Market be even more successful than last year.

AM Lecture: Kay Butler

Presenting

“My Antique Quilt Journey: A Quilt Collecting Passion”

Kay began her quilting journey 30 years ago when she first made an Amish crib quilt for her newborn daughter. The quilting stitches of that little Amish quilt were real toe catchers, but that first project fueled a lifelong passion of quilt adventures and quilting projects. Kay is a past president of the Heartland Quilt Guild of the Eastern Shore and the Helping Hands Quilt Guild of Dover. She is presently a member of five quilt guilds! She is an avid antique quilt collector, quilt historian and conservator and is a member of the American Quilt Study Group. She has taught in the Caroline County School for 31 years and is now embracing her retirement years teaching the next generation about quilting. Kay enjoys making patterns from antique quilts and reproduces those patterns with modern fabrics.

Afternoon Workshop 1-4PM: Marianne Hamilton

Scarlet Star Mini Quilt Class Fee: $20

Come and learn about the benefits of starching fabric for precision piecing and how to make half square triangles using triangle paper (which is included in the price of the class).

This mini quilt will finish at 14" by 14" or make a not so mini quilt finishing at 28" by 28" with a different size triangle paper. This little quilt would be great in holiday colors or done with modern brights.

The class will include lunch (sandwich, chips, cookie, drink) and door prizes. Lou is generously donating a free camp door prize!!! (You have to be there to win.)

November 13, 2024

We've got some fun demos planned for you this month.

Afternoon Workshop: 1 pm to 4 pm

Sewing a Pineapple Block
Using the Creative Grids Trim Tool

In this workshop, Michele and Dael will teach you how to use this wonderful device. It's really fun to use and the accuracy is amazing. Choose between two size blocks: a 6 inch mini or a larger 10 inch. Purchase of the appropriate sized ruler is recommended but not required. Feel free to share with a friend. Rulers may be purchased at Covenant Quilting.

The blocks are appealing to both traditional and modern quilters, depending on your fabric choices.

Beginners are welcome. Class fee: $20 with an option to purchase lunch for $5. And, yes, there will be door prizes!

Attendees will need to bring their sewing machine. A supply list along with instructions on pre-class prep will be provided via email.
